

If you don't tell your employer which fund you want your Superannuation Guarantee (SG) contributions to go to, they'll choose one for you, and if they don't choose an industry super fund like Vision Super, you could be paying more in fees over the life of your super than you need to. That could mean less money for your retirement.

It's easy to stay with Vision Super and retain all the benefits you enjoy as a member. Simply complete the rest of this form and hand it to your employer so they can pay your SG contributions into your Vision Super account.

Acting on your employees' choice

Once an eligible employee chooses a super fund, you have two months to arrange payment into that fund.

If your employee indicates that they would like you to use their Tax File Number (TFN) for superannuation purposes, you have an obligation to inform the super fund of the employee's TFN when you next make a contribution for the employee.

Record keeping

You must keep records, in English, of your employee's choice of super fund and receipts or other documents issued by the fund detailing your contributions. Records must be kept for 5 years.

You also need to keep proof that the fund you are contributing to is a complying super fund. The required letter of compliance for Vision Super is included on this form.
